

Sheila Galvin

PHOTOGRAPHY

Timeless, romantic, elegant wedding photography creating memories that last a lifetime.

Sheila Galvin has photographed weddings at Ingliston for years, she loves the sparkle and glamour of the settings, and always makes use of the beautiful countryside surroundings. She can offer to be with you from bridal preparation through to your first dances in the evening with a choice of high quality contemporary wedding albums, picture frames and bespoke wall products.

The simplicity of her pricing structure is designed to offer maximum flexibility, enabling you to create your own bespoke wedding photography package.

"I love photographing people and making them look great! It is my privilege to ensure that every meaningful detail is photographed in a relaxed, unobtrusive, artful way. It's also my job to create a masterpiece album, custom designed and handcrafted specifically for each bride and groom. It's very heart-warming to know that the photographs I take will become treasured family heirlooms for generations to come. I'm very fortunate to make a living doing something I love"...
